Christmas is just around the corner, and that means it’s time for family photos and gifting the little ones in the family. That also means “expense, expense, and expense”. What if we told you there was a smarter and much more affordable way to go about kidswear online shopping? Take a look at these tips we’ve consolidated for you in this ultimate shopping guide to Buy Preloved Baby Clothes.

The very first rule is to have a general colour scheme. Gifting clothes, especially to children requires some added attention as opposed to shopping for adults. It is important to ensure that the color scheme chosen works for all major holidays and events throughout the year. If you are expecting a family picture to be taken, pick a colour that compliments the colours worn by the rest of the family.

Reds, whites, and blues are some examples of colours that stay in season all year round. Choose different hues of these dependable colours from our children's clothing store online.

Once you have the colour scheme sorted, look into the fabric of the clothing. Not only should the clothing be soft and comfortable to wear, but it should also be durable and withstand general wear and tear. This allows the kids to wear the clothes over and over and over again, and reduce the mindless purchase of new clothes. Non-stretchy cotton, soft denim, and seater fabrics, are just some of the many options of durable fabrics you can choose from during your kidswear online shopping.

Another thing to consider while heading to our Children's Clothing Store to shop for your little ones is shapes and patterns. Take note to opt for classic shapes and patterns, that are timeless and do fade away with every new trend in the market. Some examples of such timeless clothes include classic navy sweaters, dresses with bows, dresses with eyelet trims on the bottom, etc. While you search for these classic styles, look out for outfits with fun details, as children tend to enjoy quirky clothes the most.

Last, but not least, take into account what the child likes and does not like. Don't opt for clothes that have elements that your child just does not enjoy. As our spokesperson, Ella says, "buy clothes that will be loved for many years." At Heidi Boo, you will find just that!
