X METAVERSE PRO: Enabling DAO Governance in the Age of Web 3.0 Social Media

New York City, New York Sep 22, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - X METAVERSE PRO is an emerging decentralized social media platform with unique insights and solutions to solve the inherent problems of traditional video platforms. Its existence can bring new inspiration to the industry. Web 3.0 has created a whole new world for us; this world is based on the blockchain, the storage and flow of data are all carried out on the chain, and no one entity can control them.

This kind of transformation process brought by Web 3.0 and returning ownership to users is gradually spreading to the whole network, from e-commerce to social media, and then to the field of games, there are emerging groups composed of developers, creators, and users. A tendency for democratic groups to jointly maintain and control. At the same time, the use cases of Web3.0 have gained much attention. They are DeFi, NFT, and GameFi. Let's analyze them one by one.

DeFi is a financial ecosystem powered by smart contracts that allow participants to access financial services on a peer-to-peer basis without relying on traditional intermediaries. NFT stands for non-fungible digital assets, which can represent images, songs, and videos, and are verified by blockchain technology. GameFi, on the other hand, is a virtual world driven by the token economy and blockchain technology. Most decentralized games integrate NFTs.

Indeed, a completely decentralized Internet world is still far away from us. Still, in the field of encryption, many outstanding pioneers have already begun to take the lead in using blockchain technology to explore the prototype of the Web3.0 network for the public. And X METAVERSE PRO is one of them.

First, the XMETA wallet realizes a decentralized social identity. XMETA application data is synchronized with the chain, fully open source, and able to create, trade, transfer token assets, and connect to the distribution network to reward users with $XMETA in exchange for their contributions. The application can only be updated, changed, and upgraded with the majority consent of the user.

All data will be circulated to the crypto market as tokens. At this time, the excellent X METAVERSE PRO asset management ecosystem will accept assets from DeFi, NFT, GameFi, and even the Metaverse from all over the world and carry them to the Web3 value world. X METAVERSE PRO will explore the untapped opportunities from Web 3.0 for human beings worldwide and will distribute wealth equally according to the proportion of labor. At that time, more and more people will hold $XMETA, which will inevitably lead to appreciation, bringing them additional income again.
