

A new brand of complete meal shakes is set to transform meals times for busy working women as well their waistline

Los Angeles, California Nov 25, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Premium quality meal replacement shakes will take the stress out of meal prep for busy professional women and are perfect for budget-friendly diet plans. The shakes that taste like cake were designed for busy women to save more time, create more life and work balance, and still nourish their bodies with proper nutrients without sugar and extra calories. The meal replacement shakes can help women struggling with weight issues and they can jumpstart your diet journey. A lot of women the age of 35 and above start struggling with weight loss and maintaining it.

The WellnessPro Nutrition shakes created by Dr. Tatiana Kolpakova, will transform boring "healthy meals" into delicious energizing complete meal shakes. The shakes are nutrient-rich meal replacements that are loaded with digestive enzymes and high-quality protein to ensure better absorption and to have more energy.

Dr. Kolpakova had the vision to provide the healthiest and most satisfying meal replacement and to be sure that the shakes would be cost-effective and still provide the best nutritional value.

Mrs. Kolpakova's research has revealed that the majority of complete meal shakes lack the key ingredients to ensure effective and long-lasting weight loss and give our bodies the best nutrients. With her extensive experience in the medical and wellness industries, she believes that the right shake could be a perfect complete meal in a jar, something that would be a part of her daily or weekly lifestyle.

Whether a client is interested in losing weight or simply getting the best nutrition, wellness pro shakes will be the foundation of a daily regimen.

Dr. Kolpakova perfected the recipe and the shakes come in two flavors and are sold as a part of a weight loss package or individually.

The biggest benefit of the shake is that they do have low sugar, low carb, and low calorie yet they have the perfect balance of all nutrients that curbs appetite and balances your sugar levels without feeling hungry and deprived.

According to Dr. Kolpakova, the shakes can teach our bodies to eat healthily and be mindful of our food choices. She added "Packed with the right amounts of proteins, enzymes, vitamins, minerals, and fruit and vegetable extracts, it will help you achieve great physical shape while feeling you're very best. If you want to accelerate your weight loss, make sure that you supplement your shakes with detoxifying daily cleanse with probiotics and our exclusive carb blocker to restore digestion, speed up metabolism, and control appetite throughout the day"

With holidays around the corner, the WellnessPro Nutrition team recommends starting a 30-day plan to detox from sugar and get back on track during the Christmas season. It is a truly secret weapon to losing weight and gaining better health.

WellnessPro Nutrition is a science-based, innovative nutritional product that has been created in collaboration with the staff nutritionist for two U.S. Presidents and U.S. Olympic Team.
