

November is National Entrepreneurship Month

FREE TRAINING - Evalu8 your business. Get clear on the opportunities, focus on what needs attention and start a plan to reach your goals in 2023.

Moncton, New Brunswick Nov 2, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Evalu8-Evolve Business Coaching is excited to announce that it will be offering FREE Training in celebration of Entrepreneurship Month, as the first of its annual event. Learn how to EVALU8 your business.

As a Business Strategist Coach and former Business Broker, Founder Sara Phelan says that one of the main challenges she sees for small business owners who work IN their business is that it's hard to always see the big picture and work ON it. And we get comfortable and gravitate to the work we like to do.

Sara says that it wasn't that long ago she was in that spot, in her first business. Knowing something needed work, but not sure where to start. This is a discussion she wishes someone had shared with her. She noted how important the big picture vision is for keeping us 'entrepreneurs' Dreaming Big and being prepared for whatever is next.

The Live Training and Q&A will be held on Tuesdays (3 pm AST, 11 am Pacific) throughout the month of November. Register to attend the online session. The self-assessment will bring clarity on where to focus efforts, make informed decisions and start a plan to reach goals in 2023. With this new skill and template, participants can do it again every year.

The Evalu8 training and coaching programs have participants reporting that they felt empowered and in control of their business on a whole new level:

"The program was just what I had hoped. It forced me to peek into corners, ask hard questions and think about things differently. As a result, I have a new way of thinking and a new planning process, which is an excellent way to lead into the new year!" - Lynn Colepaugh, Cyber PR Army

This training is for any entrepreneur that works IN their business and is ready to make some changes. Please share, and help another entrepreneur to level up.
