

The Rebranding of Sky Technovation as Onvika Private Limited

Sky Technovation which is now Onvika Private Limited was founded in 2014.

Surat, Gujarat Nov 16, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - As we change our old clothes with new ones but the idea of a better way of living remains constant. The same goes for us, SKY TECHNOVATION changed its name and rebranded as ONVIKA PRIVATE LIMITED, but the idea of providing innovative and much better life remains constant. We always look forward to providing India's best technology by building better innovations. And our all imagination is being created as a reality by our hardworking developers and employees. And the feedback including good or badly provided by our clients always motivates us to do more, like the cherry on the cake.

Sky Technovation which is now Onviqa Private Limited was founded in 2014.

The FOUNDER and The TEAM

The two young minds, Akash Fasara and Hiren Bhuvra founded the company in 2014 with the vision of creating imagination into reality. The beginning was not smooth but their will to give better to this world in the field of technology was way more strong. They worked hard to grow the sapling into a big tree and their dedication to the company was all worth it. Onviqa Private Limited is growing rapidly and breaking its own records day after day. The founders of the company are willing to give their all to make their dream into reality and it is clearly visible in the company's growth rate.

Any imagination can't be fulfilled alone, and there are always a bunch of people who are ready to do anything for us. Yes! We talking about the Onviqa team. The developers, designers, programmers, mobility experts, QA experts, and system support never give up to satisfy any of their clients' needs. They set the benchmark of how well teamwork can be done every day. They never fail to respond to their clients and they never turn their back whenever they face any failure.

Onviqa's founder and their team worked day and night to make things possible which was impossible once. They never give up and take the Onviqa to different heights. No wonder why Onviqa is so a reliable and optimum company.

The idea behind rebranding Sky Technovation into Onviqa Private Limited

As the world keeps changing their way of living just to fulfill their way of better living. Sky Technovation rebranded as Onviqa Private Limited because the name Onviqa signifies the vision of the company better and we can say that Onviqa states more about the company idea and its goal in a better way. Same as a better way of living, it delivers our views to the clients in a more efficient way. The new changes always bring excitement in people same goes with us, the new name brings more enthusiasm and excitement in the Onviqa team as well as in the clients. We can clarify it in tech language as every software needs an update to work more efficiently and more accurately, we Onviqa needed to. But our goal to provide better innovation remains constant.

The next 5 years of Onviqa

After 5 years we see it as a more reliable and more strong company in the tech world and we are 100% sure about it because as we see our past reports and the company growth Onviqa is so strong than its past years and more fulfilling everyone's dreams even after facing the challenges in day to day life. The Onviqa team is the front of the company which faces numerous problems and solves them without any fear, the founders are the backbone of the company as they provide support and pass their will to each and every person in Onviqa. Without a doubt, Onviqa will have rigorous growth in the next 5 years leaving smiles on everyone's faces and stepping close to their vision and goal.
