

Westex CEO Joins Advisory Board Of The Global Chamber

Rockville, Maryland Dec 4, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Westex Group and its sister company, WCS, stood forth on behalf of global trade, proudly sponsoring the Autumn event of the Global Chamber, on November 16, in Washington Post Penthouse.

Founder and CEO, Varghese George, was introduced as the newest Advisory Board member, by the Chamber's Mi Jeong Hibbits. Expressing confidence in the future of global trade and improvements to the supply-chain system, Varghese George recounted his company's origins in a one-room office on the K Street corridor. There, in the mid-1980s, among Washington's power brokers, he created a dynamic trading company dedicated to the sale of U.S. products to overseas infrastructure projects.

Soon he identified another business opportunity, creating WCS (Washington Consular Services) to serve the documentary needs of the companies shipping his materials overseas. As things have evolved, today WCS is a leader in document authentication apostilles and legalization for the medical device and pharmaceutical industries. On the prestigious client list are many of the best-known global brands in those industries.
