

Where Art Meets Blockchain, Open Virtual World & Unreal Engine 5: A One-Time Offer in Miami

From Dec. 1 to Dec. 4, Alpha City is holding a series of events in the course of the world's largest Art Week, taking place in Miami, Florida.

Miami, Florida Dec 2, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Held at the Hive Wynwood, the events feature curated panels on the future of Web3, Art, and NFTs, as well as the VR beta being released to the public for the first time. Alpha City has also designed a replica of a real-life venue in its meta space for an even more immersive experience.

Alpha City's pre-release version is almost ready with the city structures, parks, waterways, roads, office buildings, and an array of other details completed. The company will offer land to its holders in an exclusive drop, which will only be available during Art Week. An extremely limited amount of plots will be put up for sale, varying in size, design, and price. Those who buy the land drops will also get a bonus NFT, exclusive Alpha Merch, and access to Alpha City's private events in 2023.

To become an early adopter, one needs to sign up for the Beta at Alpha City's official website, after which they will get a link to buy their land once the project goes live during Alpha City Basel. The tickets to the event itself may be purchased here.

With a pre-sale waitlist of almost 5,000 people wanting the first 2,000 plots and major brands in negotiations to join Alpha City later this year, the Metaverse of Social Lifestyle future looks optimistic.

"At its core, the vision of Alpha City has always been about building new connections between people."

We strive to create an interactive space where you can be whoever you want to and give you a truly immersive experience,” says Jorge Guinovart, the project’s co-founder and CEO. “Metaverse is at the forefront of the next entertainment technological step forward, and it’s here to stay.”

Alpha City is a unique and creative Web3 project built on Unreal Engine 5 that features a hyper-realistic Metaverse. Its native digital coin, ALPHA, is used to acquire land, houses, buildings, cars, concerts, and more. In addition, all ALPHA Coin holders are upgraded to VIP during Art Basel.
