Mary Howe Foust, RN, a a Retired Registered Nurse

Get to know Registered Nurse, Mary Howe Foust, who is retired from practice.

New York City, New York Jan 27, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Having worked as a charge nurse at Rosebud Village, Mary is now retired from practice.

Rosebud Village - a nursing home facility in Richmond, Indiana - is proud to serve fellow Hoosiers with the very best in rehabilitation, memory care, and other senior healthcare options. Its mission is to compassionately serve each customer with quality care and excellence.

Specializing in rehabilitation and geriatric nursing, Mary earned her nursing degree from Ivy Technical School in 2000.

For her years of experience, she attributes her success to her love of nursing, especially the geriatric population, being there for her patients every day, and being able to make a difference.

A Registered Nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province, or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license.

RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include leadership, research, performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.
