

New Shade System Gives Homeowners Relief

Chandler, AZ-based company invents a two-in-one dual shade system for patios

Chandler, Arizona Jan 23, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - The Outside Shade Company, LLC is proud to introduce its revolutionary two-in-one dual awning and shade system. The system, invented by the owner of the company Steve Larkin, allows homeowners to enjoy their patios in the Arizona sun year-round.

The Arizona sun can be intense and relentless, making it difficult to enjoy outdoor spaces during summer. The Outside Shade Company recognized this issue and set out to find a solution that keeps homeowners out of the sun and enhances the aesthetic of their homes or businesses. The result is the two-in-one dual awning and shade system, a product that provides sun protection and a beautiful addition to any outdoor space.

"At The Outside Shade Company, we understand the challenges of living in Arizona, the importance of protecting yourself and your loved ones from the sun's harmful rays, and the importance of providing high-quality products and excellent customer service. Our two-in-one dual awning and shade system offers a solution that keeps you out of the punishing Arizona sun and enhances the aesthetic of your home or business. We take pride in offering same-day quotes and senior citizen and military discounts to ensure that our customers are satisfied with our products and services," said Steve Larkin, inventor of the system and owner of The Outside Shade Company."

Customer satisfaction is the top priority at The Outside Shade Company. The company understands the importance of completing projects efficiently and correctly the first time and works hard to ensure that all our customers are happy with the final result.

The Outside Shade Company only sell the most top-notch products, and their superior warranty policy gives their customers peace of mind. The company products are of the highest quality and will last for years, ensuring that your investment in a shade system will be wise.

Their expert staff goes out of their way to ensure that every customer they work with is satisfied 100% of the time. It includes a free same-day, no-obligation consultation, with a written quote provided.

In addition to unparalleled quality and service on your awnings in Chandler, AZ, The Outside Shade Company provides only those products which are American made. With everything they offer, from retractable awnings to roll shade or sunscreens, their customers can rest easy knowing that they are helping an American business that provides products.

To bring you the most consistent high-quality products available on the market today, each product the company sells goes through several rigorous quality control processes before it leaves the factory. With their unprecedented superior warranty policy and first-class customer service, you can relax and enjoy your home space protected by the product and be assured it will last for many sunny years.

This company did a GREAT job! Steve was very professional, and prices were affordable. They were able to come out right away and give us a quote. The time it took to get the screens ordered and put up was speedy. I will use this company again! - Kelly B
