'You..are.tamam' is a perfect example of an artist's creativity and what they are capable of doing if given full freedom. It will not be fair to put the song to a specific genre, hip-hop when in terms of production and composition the song also carries some beats of the pop music genre. The production of the track also deserves recognition for using the vocals in the right way that is not overpowering the composition but still contributes to creating an enchanting environment for the listeners. The artist Yaminemoficial did an outstanding job in writing the lyrics as well which complements the theme of the track so well. The artist single-handedly did the writing, composing, and mixing of the track along with producing it which shows the true caliber of the musician.

To top it off, the music video of the track only consists of a picture of a pair of shoes which lets the viewers concentrate on the music alone and does a great job at attracting the audience. You can watch the video on YouTube along with his other works, 'geil', 'oOTR', 'drache', 'engelchen, and babygyrl', etc., and listen to it on Spotify.
