QeRetail Brings Game-Changing Product Bundling App to Shopify Stores!

QeRetail brings a transformative addition to the Shopify App store. This game-changer allows store owners to increase sales by offering customized product bundles to their customers, enhancing their shopping experience and boosting revenue.

Woodland Hills, California Mar 24, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - QeRetail is proud to announce the launch of Qe Bundle Products, a new app for Shopify store owners that helps increase sales and boost revenue through product bundling. With Qe Bundle Products, Shopify store owners can leverage the power of cross-selling and upselling to encourage customers to purchase multiple products in a single order.

Product bundling has been proven to increase sales and boost revenue, and Qe Bundle Products makes it easy for Shopify store owners to take advantage of this AOV amplifying strategy. With a range of customizable layout options and discount options, Qe Bundle Products helps store owners create bundles that are both appealing and personalized for their customers.

One of the key features of Qe Bundle Products is automatic bundle activation, which allows store owners to schedule bundles to activate during peak shopping periods or for special occasions. In addition to automatic bundle activation, it also offers cart page bundling, which allows store owners to display related or most-purchased item bundles on the cart page. This encourages customers to add more items to their orders and can help increase the average order value (AOV). Qe Bundle Products also provides data insights and analytics on the performance of bundles, which helps store owners to identify the most popular products to make data-driven decisions to maximize sales.
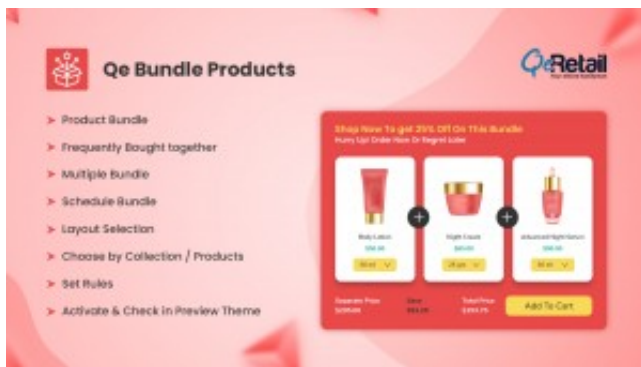

To celebrate the launch of Qe Bundle Products, QeRetail is offering a 30-day free introductory offer for new users. Shopify store owners can try out the app and see the benefits without any upfront cost. After the 30-day free trial period, store owners can choose from a range of customizable pricing plans that are designed to fit their business needs.

"We're thrilled to be launching Qe Bundle Products and providing Shopify store owners with a powerful tool for boosting revenue," said Amit Mehta, Founder & CEO QeRetail. "Our app is designed to be easy to use and customizable so that store owners can create product bundles that are tailored to their customers' needs. We're excited to see how Qe Bundle Products will help our users take their businesses to the next level."
