

Desserts Company Upgrades to BarCloud Barcode Inventory System

Streamline Food Production and Manage Raw Materials Easily with Effective Inventory Management Software

San Jose, California Apr 12, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - We Take the Cake Bakery of Fort Lauderdale, Florida decided to upgrade their inventory management strategy and adopted BarCloud's inventory management software. A small but dedicated team, We Take the Cake's luxury custom desserts and pastries have received widespread critical acclaim, featured in publications like Good Morning America and InStyle Magazine. With the attention the company garnered, they set their sights on growing the business, which meant upgrading to proper barcode inventory software for managing inventory and raw materials.

Before they began their search for an inventory tracking solution, We Take the Cake relied primarily on manual pen and paper methods for perishable inventory management. Upon adopting BarCloud's comprehensive inventory management system, it quickly proved to be the inventory tracking solution the company sorely needed.

A few examples of how the barcode inventory system helped them include:

- Easily picking items for batch/kit assembly.
- Easily manage expiry dates for perishable ingredients.

- Have comprehensive business reporting for upper management.
- Consolidated and accessible inventory readout.

“I think the biggest [advantage] is the kitting process,” operations manager Jennifer Distler said. “As we “finish” products, we can remove many individual items from our inventory that often were forgotten before the implementation of this system.”

The inventory management software they adopted streamlined operations both in the kitchen and for the business. They were able to cut down costs on unused materials that expired, and inventory data was better organized, so employees were able to easily find the ingredients they need and collaborate better as a team. Configurable reports in the barcode inventory software also gave stakeholders resources to make informed business decisions.
