

Daniel F. Saad, MD, FACS, a Pediatric Surgeon with Paladin Pediatric Surgery

Get to know Pediatric Surgeon Dr. Daniel F. Saad, who serves patients in Greenville, South Carolina.

New York City, New York May 16, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - An experienced pediatric surgeon, Dr.

Saad works with patients at his private practice - Paladin Pediatric Surgery - in Greenville, South Carolina. He specializes in laparoscopic and thoracoscopic minimally invasive techniques, and is passionate about providing the most advanced and effective care for his patients.

In addition to providing surgical care, he also offers consults and second opinions for patients and families seeking guidance on pediatric surgical issues. He understands that making medical decisions for children can be overwhelming, and he takes the time to ensure that patients and their families are fully informed and comfortable with the care they receive.

Having received his pediatric surgical training at prestigious institutions such as The Johns Hopkins University, Emory University, and Arkansas Children's Hospital, Dr. Saad has honed his skills and expertise in the field of pediatric surgery. He is also certified in Advanced Trauma Life Support (ATLS) and Advanced Trauma Operative Management (ATOM), ensuring that he is well-equipped to handle any emergency situation that may arise.

Distinguished as a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons (FACS), the doctor is board certified in pediatric surgery and general surgery by the American Board of Surgery (ABS). The ABS is an independent, non-profit organization located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, founded for the purpose of certifying surgeons who have met a defined standard of education, training, and knowledge.

Pediatric surgery is a subspecialty of surgery involving the surgery of fetuses, infants, children, adolescents, and young adults. Pediatric surgeons treat children from birth through late adolescence. They choose to make pediatric care the core of their medical practice.
