New Delhi, Delhi Jun 25, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - If there's something that can be said of Gen Z, is that many of them believe that there's no such thing as being too young when it comes to being a leader or earning money.

Days ago, 14-year-old Kairan Quazi hit the headlines for becoming the youngest employee to join Elon Musk's spacecraft company SpaceX.

Now another 14-year-old is making waves in the startup world.

Rahul Mathur, the associate director of insurance startup InsuranceDekho, recently took to LinkedIn to talk about an enterprising young entrepreneur Tanish Kapur who at this young age has floated two businesses and has met the who's who of the business sector such as billionaire Gautam Adani and Amit Jain (the founder of CarDekho).

Talking about Kapur's entrepreneurial drive, Mathur wrote, "He's managed to get meetings with Amit Jain (Cardekho), Gautam Adani & other eminent personalities (ask him how). He worked at an electronics firm for 3 months when he was 13. Using that experience, he has a private label charging cable which he sells on Amazon!"

Aside from successfully floating a charging cable business. Kapur has also founded a perfume label called O'Bar as well as an e-commerce portal called Frugle which sells daily essentials at affordable rates. "He came to our office to get advice from Ankit and Ish but I got a masterclass on him in the process on perfume manufacturing, pricing, WhatsApp marketing & Shopify ecosystem," wrote Mathur.

Mathur also shared a picture of the young entrepreneur posing with the team of InsuranceDekho.

The post gained about 2,015 likes on LinkedIn. Several commenters lauded Kapur for displaying a flair for business at such a young age. "Wow, what an inspiring story! Tanish's determination and entrepreneurial spirit at such a young age are truly impressive. It's amazing to see him taking charge of his own success and seeking advice from successful entrepreneurs like Ankit and Ish. This is a reminder that age is just a number if you have passion and drive. Kudos to Tanish and all those who are pursuing their dreams fearlessly! Let's all support and encourage the next generation of leaders like Tanish," wrote a LinkedIn user.
