

Phoenix Martial Arts Launches Website and Welcomes New Members

Murfreesboro, Tennessee Jun 14, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Phoenix Martial Arts, a new, family-owned martial arts school led by Coach Nick Cotellese, has officially launched its website (www.martialarts4murfreesboro.com) and is now welcoming new members to its facility located at 2892 S Church Street, Suite D, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, 37127.

Phoenix Martial Arts offers a wide range of martial arts classes, including Karate and Taekwondo, designed to cater to children and teenagers of all skill levels. Under the guidance of Coach Nick Cotellese, the school provides an innovative program that goes beyond physical fitness. It focuses on building discipline, concentration, self-confidence, and inner strength, with an overarching goal of helping members unlock their full potential¹³†source².

"We believe that focus is essential to achieving any goal," said Coach Nick Cotellese. "Our classes aim to build the discipline and concentration it takes to stay focused and make progress, helping students take on any challenge with confidence."

In a personal message, Coach Nick Cotellese highlighted the importance of martial arts and its broader benefits. "In a time where health and well-being have never been more important, martial arts provides a positive environment where students can grow both physically and mentally. It's not just about learning self-defense; it's about building resilience, improving mental health, and fostering a sense of community. Now, more than ever, we all need positive outlets, and Phoenix Martial Arts strives to be that space for our community."

Nick's teaching approach has already received rave reviews from members. Parents have commended him for his engaging style, attention to detail, and focus on proper technique. They have also lauded his ability to connect with students on a personal level and his commitment to ensuring they are confident in their abilities.

Phoenix Martial Arts is currently offering web specials available for purchase on its website, providing an opportunity for interested individuals to experience their classes with minimal commitment. For more information about Phoenix Martial Arts, or to join their growing martial arts community, please visit www.martialarts4murfreesboro.com.

Media Contact

Phoenix Martial Arts

nick@martialarts4murfreesboro.com

6154884807

2892 S Church St, Suite D

Source : Phoenix Martial Arts

See on IssueWire