

Introducing Biophora™ : Technically-Advanced Medical-Grade Skin Care Line Now Launching in the USA

Biophora™, a pioneering leader in medical-based skin care, is thrilled to announce the highly anticipated launch of its product line in the United States through an exclusive relationship with US distributor NewGen Science

Los Angeles, California Jul 20, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Biophora™, a pioneering leader in medical-based skin care, is thrilled to announce the highly anticipated launch of its product line in the United States through an exclusive relationship with US distributor NewGen Science. With a commitment to merging medical expertise with cutting-edge skin care technology, Biophora™ aims to transform the way individuals in the US approach their skin care routines by providing them with an affordable advanced skin system for healthy, radiant skin.

The Biophora™ system is the product of years of collaborative scientific research of dermatologists, cosmetic plastic surgeons, anti-aging specialists, naturopathic doctors, and chemists, resulting in highly effective daily regimes designed to be simple for patients to follow and maintain.

Key Highlights of the Biophora™ skin product line include:

1. High-potency, medical-grade formulations, botanicals, and natural ingredients are paired together to provide synergistic treatment protocols for home use.
2. Customizable Solutions: Understanding that every individual's skin is unique, Biophora™ offers a range of targeted treatments catering to various skin types and concerns. From acne-prone to anti-aging and sensitive skin, the products are carefully tailored to provide optimal results for each user.

3. Sustainability Commitment: Biophora™ is committed to environmental responsibility. All packaging is recyclable, and the brand strictly adheres to ethical sourcing and manufacturing practices. Products are cruelty-free, gluten-free and 31 out of 38 are vegan.

4. Biophora™ products are free from harmful chemicals such as phthalates, parabens, triclosan, Hydroquinone, and contain no artificial colors or synthetic fragrances.

5. Clinical in-office and professional back bar available: Biophora offers certified educational programs and protocols to achieve unparalleled clinical results.

“We are thrilled to introduce and partner with Biophora™ to bring a new affordable medical-based skin care line to the American market” said Madeline Wolkove, NewGen Science. “Our mission as a newly-formed US distributor, is to empower individuals to prioritize skin health by having access to affordable efficacious skin systems like Biophora™”.
