Get to know Internist Dr. Conrad Braaten, who serves patients in High Point, North Carolina.

New York City, New York Aug 4, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Braaten is an internal medicine specialist who works at Oak St. Health, operating out of the office in High Point, North Carolina.

Oak St. Health is a value-based health care company that serves mainly Medicare patients. It is focused on preventative care, keeping the patients as healthy as possible and out of the hospital. There is a lot of time spent on education for the patients and even offers a free shuttle service to pick up patients that cannot drive.

“I listen and have compassion and I love my patients. In medical school, a cardiologist on one of my rotations told me that I should always ‘touch my patients with love’ and I believe listening and having compassion is a great way to show that love” expressed Dr. Braaten.

Some of the conditions that he treats include heart disease, kidney disease, mental health, diabetes, osteoarthritis, anemia, arteriosclerosis, asthma, cold and flu, allergies, as well as issues related to skin, hair, and nails.

With a broad educational background, Dr. Braaten graduated with his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine in Virginia in 2013. He then went on to perform his residency in internal medicine at OSF St. Joseph Medical Center in Bloomington, Illinois.

Board-certified in internal medicine, the doctor is a Diplomate of the American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine (AOBIM). The AOBIM is an organization that provides board certification to qualified Doctors of Osteopathic Medicine (DOs) who specialize in the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of disease in adults (internists).

Continuously advancing his efforts, Dr. Braaten is an active member of the American Osteopathic Association.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.
