Huntsville, Alabama Sep 13, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Award-winning author Janet Johnson Anderson is making waves in the literary world with her impactful novels, Avhi's Flight and The Ray of Hope. These thought-provoking books delve into diverse themes, showcasing Anderson's talent for storytelling and her commitment to shedding light on important social issues, and they come highly recommended by renowned and Emmy-award winning broadcaster, Kate Delaney.

Avhi's Flight takes readers on a captivating journey through the eyes of a 14-year-old girl who escapes an arranged marriage, embarking on an extraordinary adventure across the Nepali countryside. The novel not only explores themes of self-discovery but also highlights the challenges faced by Nepali women and girls by a suppressive culture.

Anderson's debut novel has received accolades, including the Beverly Hills Book Award for Best Women's Fiction and the National Indie Book Award for Best Multicultural Fiction. It was also accepted into prestigious book festivals such as the Tucson Festival of Books, the Los Angeles Times Festival of Books, and the Miami Book Fair International.

This powerful story has earned the endorsement of The Women's Foundation of Nepal, an organization dedicated to raising awareness of gender-based injustices and empowering women.

The Ray of Hope, Anderson's most recent novel, transports readers to the vibrant backdrop of post-Hurricane Katrina New Orleans, where two families find themselves entangled in a web of mystery and murder. Anderson masterfully weaves together themes of class division, political corruption, and the resilience of community in this compelling slice-of-life narrative.

The Ray of Hope was recognized as a finalist in the New York City Big Book Award for Best General Fiction and the National Indie Book Awards for Best Fiction.

Kate Delaney, national radio host, recently praised Anderson in an interview for her must-read novel, Avhi's Flight that powerfully illuminates pressing issues facing women and the urgent need for change. She commends The Ray of Hope for its poignant reminder of the human conditions, and hope that can return even for those whose lives have been changed forever.
