If you believe that you don't have a choice, think again! It is always our choice. Therefore, I invite you to Journey through this book to master the art of decision-making. Ultimately, this book is an invitation to become not just a passive observer of life but an active participant in shaping your legacy.

Once released, the book will be available in print format in the USA, UK, Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and the Middle East; and the e-book will be distributed from more than 70 online partners serving readers across the globe.

About The Author:

Growing up in Jordan, he was a kid who was careless during his school and college days, who finally listened to his inner voice. Since that time, Nashat's strong drive to continuously enhance his knowledge, skills and personal qualities have seen his passion become helping others and making an impact.

During his journey working in Corporates he witnessed a lot of his colleagues at different levels sharing a common struggle, The Decision-Making Process. Witnessing how this struggle stripped them of their confidence, and seeing their adaptability diminished in the process, inspired him to start coaching and counselling others even before he became manager.

Driven by his passion, Nashat made all his choices in life that allowed him to live up to his expectations and values.

A devoted husband and father of 3 lovely kids, he is an athlete himself, plays professional tennis and travels the world by participating in IronMan races.
