Get to know Cardiologist Dr. Angel Caldera, who serves patients in Round Rock, Texas.

New York City, New York Dec 27, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - A seasoned cardiologist, Dr. Caldera works with patients at Baylor Scott & White Clinic – Round Rock. Specializing in Transcatheter Aortic Valve Replacement (TAVR), his professional journey is marked by a profound commitment to advancing the frontiers of medical knowledge, with a particular focus on interventional cardiology, structural and valvular heart disease, and vascular medicine.

Back in 1994, he earned his medical degree from the Universidad Central De Venezuela Facultad de Medicina. Upon relocating to the United States, he completed his residency in internal medicine at the Albert Einstein Medical Center in 2004, followed by a fellowship in cardiovascular disease at the Baylor College of Medicine in 2007. Finally, he completed an additional fellowship in interventional cardiology at Massachusetts General Hospital in 2008.

As a testament to his success, the doctor is board-certified in cardiovascular disease, interventional cardiology, and internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

A prominent researcher, Dr. Caldera's research endeavors contribute to the collective understanding of cardiovascular diseases and interventions, as evidenced by his numerous publications in peer-reviewed journals. He also actively participates as a voting member of the Peripheral Arterial Disease Committee of the Society for Cardiovascular Angiography and Interventions (SCAI).

Cardiology is a branch of medicine that deals with the disorders of the heart, as well as some parts of the circulatory system. The field includes medical diagnosis and treatment of congenital heart defects, coronary artery disease, heart failure, valvular heart disease, and electrophysiology. Cardiologists are doctors who diagnose, assess, and treat patients with diseases and defects of the heart and blood vessels (the cardiovascular system).

Among his most notable achievements, Dr. Caldera has been recognized as a Top Doc by Austin Monthly Magazine in 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023.
