The Vet Voice Media is in possession of numerous legally recorded conversations, dozens of emails and hundreds of texts debunking Angie Wong's accusations against others and debunking her defenses to ongoing Georgia litigation. The allegations against Wong are proven true. Hundreds of examples of evidence, not yet public, will be presented in a Georgia courtroom where Wong will ultimately stand trial.

Along the way as Wong issues false press statements, and attempts to venue shop, this media outlet has, in reaction to Wong's statements, published samples of evidence to defend the victims of Wong's defamation, as they are acting with integrity and helping to save the country while she continues with Alinsky tactics to spin a false narrative.

Let's be very clear, in the legally made recording you are about to listen to with Thomas Datwyler he obviously does not know Stan Fitzgerald who called him. There is no collusion or relationship with Datwyler and Fitzgerald, or the rest of Wong's victims. We say two accountants because the statements from the Legacy PAC accountant Troy Brewer are also of the same status (See the witness statements on this news tab). Brewer was Wong's pick for the accountant of Legacy PAC he has no relationship with Stan Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald had not even spoken to Brewer until after Troy Brewer decided to block Angie Wong from sending money to herself questioning her ethics and authorization to do so stating Angie Wong sounded paranoid.
