

Ana & Gene a new duo hit sensation

Released new EP masterpiece called “Uh-Oh Who Do You Love”.

Bartlett, Illinois Feb 19, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Ana & Gene

Are a new fresh, raw, melodic, and exciting duo from Bartlett Illinois USA. Pop star Gene Roberts who is from the Bronx, New York already had some of his music go gold down through the years. He met renowned researcher, and singer-songwriter Anastacia Bella in 2020 during the Covid- Pandemic on Facebook. Anastacia Bella with her unique, powerful, edgy, sweet, and sultry voice. Also Gene Roberts with his powerful, airy, Tenor, and falsetto voice. Decided to write/compose/produce/sing together and fuse different genres of Pop and Modern Rock music. They have created a unique blend that everyone can love and enjoy. Their music consists of all live elements only. So when they go to rock the stage with their epic sounds. It's a sure thing that they will be exactly like their recordings. Also since they are both in the music and film industry. They write/compose/produce their music to aim towards Radio, T.V., Commercials, Film and all Social Media Platforms. They just released their first new EP together called "Uh-Oh Who Do You Love". Which was released on Jan. 14 2024 through an Independent Label called Eugana Records LLC. They had help in creating their EP from a very talented band called "The Scene". With Buddy Woods on Lead Guitar, Michael O'Connor on Bass, and Rob LeLa on Drums. They are also from the surrounding suburbs of Illinois USA. You will be seeing Ana & Gene with The Scene soon enough playing at a venue near you.
