On a professional level, she is a Fellow of the American Academy of Neurology (FAAN) and an active member of the Child Neurology Society.

Pediatric neurology refers to a specialized branch of medicine that deals with the diagnosis and management of neurological conditions in neonates (newborns), infants, children, and adolescents. A child neurologist, or pediatric neurologist, is a doctor who treats children who have problems with their nervous system. Problems in the nervous system can start in the brain, spine, nerves, or muscles.

Among her philanthropic endeavors, Dr. Zach is a Board member of Jewish Family and Children's Services.

In her personal life, she practices REACT Defense Systems - Israeli self-defense, and her preferred destination is Belize.
