Alectrofagis breaks the myth of vapes containing harmful chemicals, which make it similar to cigarettes. It explains that e-juices are purely made from vegetable glycerin and propylene glycol.

These ingredients are medically approved and found in many household products, such as medicines, cosmetics, etc. Flavours also play a vital role in the vaping experience as nearly 30% of users reported flavour as a key reason for starting to vape as opposed to smoking. Talking about flavours, CEO of Alectrofag, Azim Aleem said, "Flavours such as mango ice are a premium treat on hot days. They offer the luscious sweetness of exotic mangoes and cool down every exhale with the frosty sensation of menthol. Alectrofag's idea is to introduce the most finely curated and mesmerising flavours for ex-smokers and health-conscious people."

The company prioritizes their company's customers' health more than anything else. The company has also collected additional data that shows over the past 4 years, summer months in the UK are peak periods where more than 50% of customers on average flock to buy devices, making it an ideal time to raise awareness. The company's mission is to preserve the atmosphere from the toxins released by cigarette smoke and to save human lives from the drastic health concerns associated with tobacco smoking. The idea is to offer a healthier alternative to smoking to minimise unnecessary harm. Alectrofag looks forward to bringing about change with these revolutionary measures.
