

Return of the Persian Masked Rapper with New Music "Manam Poirot"

Tehran, Iran May 24, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Masked, an Iranian rapper known for always wearing a mask and keeping his identity undisclosed, has made a return to the music scene after a year-long hiatus. He began his career in 2020 and has released seven tracks to date.

Following a year since the release of his last track, "Rahe Pish", featuring Mtinora, Masked is making a comeback with the announcement of his new single, "Manam Poirot." This return marks an important moment in his career, symbolizing a resurgence and continuation of his artistic journey. As previously noted, this track, like his previous releases, is a single.

Masked's return signifies a critical phase in his career. After beginning his journey in 2020, Masked released seven tracks, with "Rahe Pish" being his latest before taking a break. The announcement of "Manam Poirot" aims to highlight his growth and the progress he has made during his time away. This new track could potentially signify a turning point in his career, showcasing the advancements he has achieved over the past year.

The release of "Manam Poirot" is expected to bring a fresh perspective to Masked's music and highlight his artistic evolution. Fans and music critics alike are eager to hear what Masked has to offer after a year of silence, expecting this track to reflect his continuous development as an artist.

In addition to this new release, Masked has hinted at more music to come in the near future, including potential collaborations with other prominent artists. This comeback could set the stage for a new chapter in Masked's career, emphasizing his dedication to his craft and his ability to innovate within the Persian rap scene.
