

Aart wrld records the new music label

Hyeres, Var Jun 13, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - AART WRLD: The New Music Label Revolutionizing the Industry

The world of music is constantly evolving, and a new player is among the failures: AART WRLD. This label promise, backed by some of the biggest record labels, was founded by visionary Thomas Azarian.

An Innovative Vision

Thomas Azarian, a well-known name in the music industry, is behind this bold initiative. With AART WRLD, he wants to push the boundaries of musical creation and offer a platform to emerging artists and established talents. "Our goal is to create a space of innovation and authenticity at the heart of this musical project," Azarian said.

Backed by Industry Giants

What sets AART WRLD apart from other labels is the massive support it receives from major record labels. These strategic collaborations allow AART WRLD to benefit from considerable resources, both financially and logistically, to ensure optimal distribution and increase the visibility of its artists.

A Platform for Artists

AART WRLD doesn't just produce music; The label is actively engaged in the development of the careers of its artists. By offering personalized support and meeting the provisions of top-notch marketing, production, and public relations teams, AART WRLD ensures that the artist has every card in hand to succeed.

A promising future

After the launch, AART WRLD will recruit other promising artists and prepare names for the future. The label is working on ambitious projects, including international collaborations and initiatives to support diversity and inclusion in music.

Somme, AART WRLD, under the leadership of Thomas Azarian, is well on its way to becoming a key player in the music industry. By combining innovation, support from major record labels, and the dedication of its artists, AART WRLD has established itself as the label to follow closely in the years to come.

Thomas AZARIAN was in Hyères on March 3, 2005
