

Lisa Christiansen Excels in Vital Role at Coram International, a Division of CVS Health

Medical Assistant and Certified Pharmacy Technician Makes a Difference in Salt Lake City

New York City, New York Jun 12, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Lisa Christiansen, a dedicated medical assistant and Certified Pharmacy Technician, is making a significant impact in her role at Coram International, a vital part of CVS Health. With responsibilities that include warehouse orders, packing, cleaning, and compounding sterile drugs using aseptic techniques, Lisa plays a crucial role in ensuring the safe and efficient delivery of home infusion and tube feeding therapy to patients in need.

Coram International, a leading provider of home infusion therapy with over 35 years of experience, stands out as the only national home infusion provider accredited by The Joint Commission. As a division of CVS Health, Coram benefits from access to innovative and integrated services that aim to improve health outcomes and reduce healthcare costs for patients, providers, payors, and manufacturers.

In her position at Coram International, Lisa not only executes warehouse operations with precision but also takes on the responsibility of training students entering into the pharmacy field. Her dedication to upholding the highest standards of patient care and safety is evident in her meticulous approach to compounding sterile drugs and ensuring that all procedures adhere to aseptic techniques.

"At the heart of every decision at Coram is patient care," says Lisa. "We are committed to delivering the best possible care to our patients while constantly seeking ways to innovate and improve our services."

With a focus on health care innovation, Coram International analyzes trends, identifies risks, and develops next-generation solutions to support efforts aimed at providing superior patient care. Lisa's role in this process is invaluable as she contributes her expertise and passion for pharmacy to help drive positive outcomes for patients in the Salt Lake City community and beyond.

As Lisa continues to excel in her position at Coram International, her dedication to patient care and commitment to excellence serve as a shining example of the exceptional professionals within the CVS Health network. Her contributions play a vital role in the delivery of life-saving therapies and the overall mission of providing high-quality healthcare services to those in need.
