

Mike Lawson Offers a Soul-Soothing of Darius Rucker's 'Alright'

Introducing Mike Lawson, the Alternative Christian music artist from Baltimore who has come up with the latest cover of Darius Rucker's hit music project 'Alright'.

Middle River, Maryland Jun 8, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Some music artists are able to soothe the hearts of the listeners with their skills to channel positive energy through music. Mike Lawson proves himself to be one of those artists whose musical works can definitely uplift the listeners. Musical works are mainly focused on Christian tracks and alternative music which can appear enjoyable and intriguing to music lovers with all kinds of tastes. The artist has recently dropped a cover project 'Alright' which is currently gaining a lot of attention from everyone. The original track was performed by legendary artist Darius Rucker who was a part of the rock band Hootie & the Blowfish.

The latest of 'Alright' by Mike is setting an example in Christian music with his excellent skills as a music artist and vocal prowess. He has dropped a video on YouTube for the song where he could be seen singing the track effortlessly along with an acoustic guitar. Beautifully crafted, the track offers a soft and soothing essence with Mike's meandering vocal and fine guitar skills. Just like the title of the song suggests, the subject matter focuses on assuring listeners that everything is going to be alright. In life, everyone goes through a fair share of hardship and struggles and their striving spirit is what helps them survive. Mike's latest cover was released on May 21 and already gaining much attention. The artist is currently working under the label of Pernel Records.

Mike started doing music when he was only 15 years old. He used to play drums and sometimes sing in the High School Bands. Later on, he was sent to the United States Army where he received his training and also made friends with different types of people including musicians. With exposure to different stories, lives, and emotions of others; Mike could understand that the real joy of life lies in celebrating with others and now he is spreading love and happiness through his musical creations. Hailing from Baltimore, Maryland; Mike is well known for making cover tracks as well as original songs. After his military training, he came back and started his solo musical journey while collaborating with others. Follow Mike Lawson on YouTube, Facebook, and Instagram to know more.

Watch this music video on YouTube:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cdAz9LTm-Gg>

Media Contact

Music Promotion Club

info@musicpromotion.club

Source : Mike Lawson

See on IssueWire