

Vault Cares Network Partners with First Tracks Health to Break Through Barriers in Mental Health

Bloomington, Illinois Jun 11, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Vault Cares Network, a subsidiary of Vault Strategies, proudly announces its partnership with First Tracks Health, a modern mental health system that offers innovative treatment options to members with the most severe mental health needs.

First Tracks Health offers a comprehensive platform for holistic patient care, leveraging advanced analytics to determine the most effective treatments at the optimal times. This approach ensures personalized care pathways for members, leading to significantly improved outcomes. By integrating cutting-edge data analytics, First Tracks identifies the right treatment strategies, driving optimal care and enhancing the overall member experience.

As stated by the co-founder and CEO of First Tracks Health, Daniel Lawhon, “We are committed to working with innovative organizations to create a future where brain health is proactively addressed using the safest, most advanced, and fastest-acting treatments available. By leveraging modern breakthroughs in mental health care, we aim to help individuals achieve exceptional outcomes and accelerate their journey to well-being.”

Vault Cares Network and First Tracks Health are committed to transforming the mental health care landscape by combining clinical excellence and genuine care, providing a new standard of care that goes beyond virtual sessions.

“We strive to empower members with access to cutting-edge treatments that can help them get better, faster, and maintain optimal brain health for long-term success. This alliance guarantees members receive the most advanced, effective, and timely mental health interventions. By combining our strengths, Vault Cares Network and First Tracks are poised to set a new global standard for mental health services,” states Shawn Rutledge, Chief Strategy Officer at Vault Strategies.
