

Protect What You Value Most: FreeState Safety Training Unveils New Facility and Solutions To Combat Rising Violent Crime

Middle River, Maryland Jul 7, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - FreeState Safety Training Launches New Programs and opens a New Facility to Help Businesses and Individuals Protect What They Value Most. Andrew and Bryan are local businessmen who teamed up to open the Facility. FreeState Safety Training provides the facilities for on-site and offers off-site training if you want to host the training.

Given the recent rise in random violence and violent crimes, FreeState Safety Training has expanded its menu of vital training programs. It opened an inspiring redesigned facility to train business teams and individuals on best practices for protecting what they value most.

About the Facility

Conveniently located along White Marsh Blvd, between I-95 and Eastern Blvd, the 4,000+sf facility offers small and large training rooms for as few as 5, or up to 100+, and is even available for special events like networking and team-building, with or without catering and safety training presentations tailored for your group.

It was developed to meet the needs of individuals, families, corporate clients, and law enforcement. FreeState Safety Training offers programs on crucial topics* relevant to all individuals and organizations.

*FreeState Safety Training's convenient 2-3 hour courses include:

- Situational Awareness - the cornerstone of all personal, group, and business safety.
- Workplace Violence Prevention
- Carjacking Survival
- Intruder Response
- Active Shooter Response
- Crowd Management
- Safety Response Team Building
- Site Assessment
- Having and Using a Trauma Kit

In addition to comprehensive on-site training, FreeState Safety Training provides off-site training, bringing expert instruction directly to schools, businesses, churches, synagogues, and community organizations.

"We are thrilled to expand our services and offer a dedicated space for safety education," said Drew, CEO of FreeState Safety Training. "Our mission is to provide the highest quality training to Help You Protect What You Value Most.

"Our programs are designed to give you the skills and confidence to handle any situation safely and effectively," said Susan Gray, head of business development for FreeState Safety Training.

The seasoned professionals at FSST can provide interviews and best practice content for any personal, business, News, or community organization on safety topics your organization would like to offer to your audience or team.
