

Dr. Esteban González Burchard Speaks at National Medical Association Annual Convention

Internationally recognized Pulmonary & Critical Care Physician-Scientist Dr. Esteban González Burchard, M.D., M.P.H., was honored to speak at the National Medical Association's annual convention on August 5, 2024.

San Francisco, California Aug 9, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - The National Medical Association (NMA), the largest and oldest Black Physicians Society in the United States, hosted the event.

Dr. Burchard shared the stage with notable figures, including Reverend Al Sharpton and his longtime mentor and past NMA President, Dr. Michael Lenoir. The convention provided a platform to discuss pressing issues related to healthcare equity and eliminating health disparities among minority populations.

"I am deeply honored to have had the opportunity to speak at such a prestigious event," said Dr. Burchard. "Sharing the stage with Reverend Al Sharpton and Dr. Michael Lenoir was a privilege and a moment of great personal significance. This experience has reinforced my commitment to advancing healthcare equity and addressing the health disparities that affect our communities."

Dr. Burchard's work spans medicine, public health, genetics, immunology, epidemiology, clinical trials, and the recruitment of minority participants. He has been a pivotal advisor to President Obama's All of Us Initiative, the FDA, and the NIH, which aim to accelerate health research and medical breakthroughs, enabling individualized prevention, treatment, and care.

In his address, Dr. Burchard emphasized the vital role of collaborative efforts and the support of organizations like the NMA in achieving healthcare equity. He expressed his gratitude for the National Medical Association's ongoing support and the unwavering support of his wife, which has been instrumental in his professional journey. This emphasis on collaboration makes us all feel part of a larger mission.

For more information about Dr. Esteban González Burchard's work and his ongoing efforts to promote healthcare equity, please visit <https://pharm.ucsf.edu/burchard>

About Dr. Esteban González Burchard, M.D., M.P.H.:

Dr. Esteban González Burchard is a renowned Pulmonary & Critical Care Physician-Scientist with extensive training in genetics, immunology, epidemiology, clinical trials, and the recruitment of minority participants. His unwavering commitment to advancing healthcare equity and addressing health disparities, demonstrated through his work and his role as an advisor to President Obama's All of Us Initiative, is an inspiration to us all.

Media Contact

Jen Ruhman SEO

info@jenruhman.com

(619) 719-1315

Source : Dr. Esteban González Burchard

See on IssueWire