

International Supply Chain Protection Organization Appoints Two Members to its Board of Directors

Dallas, Texas Sep 9, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - The International Supply Chain Protection Organization (ISCPO.org) announced today two new additions to its Board of Directors: Marlene Weber – Vice President of Loss Prevention for Williams-Sonoma and Jason Rowland – Risk and Compliance Officer North America for Asendia USA.

Marlene Weber is Vice President of Loss Prevention for Williams-Sonoma, Inc., a multi-channel specialty retailer of high-quality products for the home and a Fortune 500 company. Marlene leads a team of professionals who are dedicated to protecting the assets, profitability, and the safety of the Company. She has 25 years of loss prevention experience and is responsible for 16 different countries, 600 store locations, 12 distribution sites with 16 million in combined square footage, 2 manufacturing locations, and 50 hubs for final mile delivery. She oversees in every aspect of Williams-Sonoma's operations from sourcing to logistics, to distribution, to the stores, to the Company's delivery of goods to the customer's home. She and her team are focused on the customer's experience.

Marlene's investigative experience spans federal cases and leads her team to multimillion-dollar prosecutions. She has worked with various international, federal, state, and local law enforcement organizations throughout her tenure. She is EnCE certified and conducts computer forensic investigations. She has a bachelor's degree from Michigan State University. She is a member of RILA, NRF, and a board member for her local chapter of United Way.

Also joining the ISCPO Board is Jason Rowland, who Jason Rowland is the Risk and Compliance Officer for North America at Asendia, where he leads all compliance and loss prevention initiatives. Before joining Asendia, Jason spent eleven years with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, most recently serving as a Lead Transportation Security Inspector. In this role, he became a subject matter expert in the federal regulation of passenger and cargo air transportation. Jason was also responsible for training new inspectors and fostering the next generation of regulators for the DHS Office of Security Operations, earning the "Inspector of the Year" award in 2015. He additionally led a team of Behavior Detection Officers, specializing in Behavioral Analysis. He is also the founder of JR Security Consultants, a compliance consulting firm specializing in helping companies navigate regulatory burdens in the aviation and international logistics sectors.

Jason holds a bachelor's degree in Political Science from the University of Scranton and a master's degree from the Homeland Security Management Institute of Long Island University. He is currently completing his Juris Doctor at Purdue University, expected in 2025.

"The ISCPO is very excited to have both Marlene and Jason as part of the board of directors", stated Glenn Master, ISCPO President, and Chairman. "As an organization, we continue to strive to have a diverse board that brings cross-functional experiences, which span the supply chain environment".

For more information about the ISCPO and its Board: ISCPO Board Members

About the International Supply Chain Protection Organization (ISCPO):

The International Supply Chain Protection Organization (ISCPO) is a non-profit professional organization that connects members from across a wide array of sectors—from manufacturing, retail/wholesale/eCommerce, and distribution to risk management, law enforcement/legal, and logistics. The organization was created in 2014 to promote, educate, and advocate supply chain security and protection through building strong networks and delivering exceptional leadership training, board representation, and industry support. ISCPO.org

Media Contact

ISCPO

info@iscpo.org

Source : <https://www.iscpo.org/site/iscpo-appoints-two-members-to-its-board-of-directors-3/>

See on IssueWire