

Molly McDonald, OD, Provides Visionary Care for Every Generation at McDonald Eye Care Associates

Continuing a Family Legacy of Exceptional Eye Care in Lakeville, Minnesota

New York City, New York Sep 4, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Molly McDonald, OD, a dedicated and experienced optometrist, is proud to be a part of the multi-generational family practice, McDonald Eye Care Associates, located in the heart of Lakeville, Minnesota. With a commitment to providing comprehensive and supportive eye care, the practice focuses on continuity of care, ensuring that patients receive the treatment they need not only for immediate issues but also for their long-term vision health.

Dr. McDonald brings an impressive background to the team, having graduated from The Ohio State University College of Optometry in 2012. Her extensive training includes a focus on primary eye care, contact lenses, disease detection and treatment, and pre-and post-operative surgical care. She has previously worked at Minnesota Eye Consultants, where she gained invaluable experience in cataract, corneal, and glaucoma surgeries, and contributed to the medical community by co-authoring chapters in “Limbal Relaxing Incisions: A Practical Guide.”

In addition to her clinical prowess, Dr. McDonald actively engages in sports vision care, serving as the President of The Vision Performance Center of Minnesota. Her role as a vision consultant for professional teams, including the Seattle Kraken and Nashville Predators, showcases her dedication to enhancing athletes' performance through specialized visual training.

Dr. McDonald's passion for eye care extends into her involvement with Vision Therapy, a unique approach that addresses a variety of vision disorders through tailored exercises and treatments. This method, distinct from traditional optometry, focuses on the functional use of vision and is particularly beneficial for children and adults dealing with visual challenges, including those recovering from concussions.

A proud Lakeville native and former Division 1 women's ice hockey player at Cornell University, Dr. McDonald is deeply committed to her community. Voted the “Young OD of the Year” by the Minnesota Optometric Association in 2016 and recognized as the “Best Eye Doctor” in Lakeville by Readers Choice, she is excited to be actively involved in the Lakeville Hockey program once again through her daughter, Lainey.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Dr. McDonald cherishes time spent with her husband Luke, their daughter Lainey, sons Eli and Zeke, and their dog, Shooter. She looks forward to continuing the legacy of excellence in eye care at McDonald Eye Care Associates, where patients can expect a personalized approach to their eye health needs.
