

Hidden Brains Recognized as a Great Place To Work for the Third Year in a Row

Schaumburg, Illinois Dec 20, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - A leading software development company, Hidden Brains makes it to the top rankings of 'Great Place to Work'®. This award is given by a global authority on workplace culture, employee retention and experience, leadership behaviors that drive market-leading revenue and other valuable aspects of the work environment. The award is purely based on current cohorts' experience working at Hidden Brains. The award is accorded by a global authority on workplace culture, employee retention and experience, leadership behaviors proven to deliver market-leading revenue, and overall valuable aspects contributing towards the work environment. The award is based entirely on what current cohorts say about their experiences working at Hidden Brains.

The award is completely employee-driven and based on their experience working at Hidden Brains. Its employees are the first voice to translate their stories better, and they spend most of their time. Their strong theory of creating a fertile ground for productive, dedicated and innovative employees has helped them grow and create a win-win culture for their HBrain family. Hidden Brains is known for its stand out benefits focused on its employees and its inclusive sports culture to bring some tints of fun and frolic, and this is the third consecutive year that Hidden Brains is awarded such an esteemed crown.

'Great Place to Work' is a coveted achievement resulting from the consistent and voluntary contribution of every single entity that contributes to the overall employee experience. This is the third year we've been glorified with it, and this isn't it. We are on a mission to make a positive step forward for the community, people, experience and culture. Chief people officer of Hidden Brains says, "Our people are the heart of our company and we are proud they consider us a family where everyone's voice and contribution strengthens our bond."

"We are proud to be named a great place to work for the third year in a row." This year we have been more flexible, more connected, more learning, more upskilling. We know that unlocking possibilities has to have strong roots and help learners think on a bigger canvas. All this is possible through passion, empowerment and spirit."

With 21+ years of history, a workforce of 700+ globally and multiple offices and innovation labs, Hidden Brains is a company with a history. This is a testimony to the company's strong collaboration with clients, partners, enterprises, startups and stakeholders in reining in the digital transformation market. 'Best in class solutions', love for their people, and a relentless commitment to growing in different industries and business expansions are the reasons behind the company's growth.

Our jewels celebrated their 20th anniversary with us this year. We are grateful for their dedication, collaboration and efforts that have helped us reach new markets and start a new journey with a wider and better vision. We are proud to give each one a podium to grow and contribute to a wholesome, fulfilling work environment."

The survey was taken anonymously and unbiasedly by more than 700 employees. 88% of employees preferred the organization for inclusive behavior, avoiding discrimination, and fair appeal. In contrast, 85% strongly approved of a collaborative environment, 80% confirmed that they have room to grow and learn, 97% said that management is honest and ethical, and 99% said they have a welcoming and inclusive environment. But employees had strong consent for flexibility of work life balance.

Hidden Brains has been awarded a few accolades for its contribution to innovative products and has expanded its footprints in prominent geographical business-centric places in the past year. It is their constructive footsteps of balancing internally and externally – people, processes and clients. In aspects of the job, the company culture motto is to “Think innovatively, think like a customer.” These encouraging values have been ingrained in the employees and they have thought about their services. It's all give and take. Better and more come from a positive environment and fertile ground.

About Great Place to Work Certification

The most definitive “employer of choice” recognition that companies strive for is the Great Place to Work Certification. The badge is only about the employee experience in a high-trust workplace from an employee perspective. The certification is globally recognized by employees and employers alike. Employee experience is a benchmark to measure and acknowledge. There are more than a thousand companies that apply for this certification every year, and very few can get it.
