Bengaluru, Karnataka Nov 19, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - In a major stride toward fostering innovation in the Web 3.0 ecosystem, KoinBX's event, in collaboration with Aeternum, brought together blockchain visionaries, investors, and developers to explore emerging trends, forge strategic connections, and advance the decentralized future of technology.

The mixer showcased KoinBX's commitment to driving global compliance, reinforcing security, and expanding its international footprint as a leader in the digital asset ecosystem. "Hosting this mixer in Bangkok was a tremendous opportunity to engage with a vibrant and talented Developer community among other Founders & Investors," said Saravanan Pandian, CEO of KoinBX. "Our goal was to highlight KoinBX's latest achievements and ignite the next wave of Web 3.0 innovation while reinforcing the importance of adhering to global compliances and standards."

The event was filled with optimism, driven by recent developments in the global crypto market, including pro-crypto political changes in the United States of America, and the expected bull run. Industry leaders discussed how these shifts, along with evolving regulations, could impact both institutional and retail investors.

Utkarsh Tiwari, Chief Strategy Officer of KoinBX, remarked, "India is at the forefront of crypto adoption, driven by digital-first thinking and a rapidly growing investor base. As factors like Bitcoin's rally and global political developments drive momentum, digital assets are poised to reshape the economy in unprecedented ways."

The agenda included a panel discussion titled 'Navigating the Future of Web 3.0', which examined key advancements such as Decentralized Physical Infrastructure Networks (DePIN), Real World Assets (RWA), and the broader implications of blockchain innovations.

"I'm truly grateful to have been a part of the KoinBX event today, organized by Aeternum. The discussions with the panelists were insightful, and the audience was incredibly engaged. It's been a fantastic experience!", said Cecilia Wong, CEO and Co-Founder, yourPRStrategist.

"It was an honor to be invited as a panelist for the KoinBX event in Bangkok. We're excited about future opportunities and look forward to more collaborations ahead," Melissa Kurtcan, Founder & CEO, Satoshi21 and Core Hub Bali was found quoting.

Sharath Kumar, Founder & CEO of Aeternum said, "At Aeternum, we focus on bridging the gap between the needs of the community and the opportunities available to them. By creating meaningful connections and offering a platform for collaboration, we ensure that both Web 3.0 innovators and investors have the tools and resources they need to shape the future of this dynamic space."

The event's success was attributed to the contributions of esteemed speakers, investors, and partners, with Satoshi21 serving as the community partner.
