

The Tarps Wholesaler Unveils Superior Fire Retardant Covering to Increase Protection in Construction and Industrial Area

distributor of specialty tarps in the United States, is now ready to introduce its newest line of fire retardant tarps.

Developed to fit perfect Fire Retardant standards, these tarps could provide another layer of guard in applications where fire risk can exist, like in construction zones, industrial areas, and domestic renovation works.

The risks associated with fire in construction and industrial conditions are considerable and the intended product of The Tarps Wholesaler is an improvement of previous fire resistant tarps.

Every tarp is tailor-made to the specific specifications of FR CPAI 84 Section 6 Wall and Top Material established by the government to meet standard fire requirements. This certification ensures that material can undergo fire exposure with the necessary safety and endurance for professional and property users.

“The primary focus has always been safety and our fire retardant tarps are built to provide reliable insurance that assists in preventing unnecessary fire incidents and lessening catastrophes,” said a spokesperson from The Tarps Wholesaler.

These covers are not only suitable as equipment shelters, and floor and scaffolding guards but can be relied on by today safety safety-wise contractors as well as by those working in fire-prone areas.

The Tarps Wholesaler’s offering of flame retardant tarps includes this fire retardant poly tarp that is also waterproof in capability. Made with fire retardant poly 6 mil sheeting, this tarp can be used in many general uses such as drywalls and insulation, and high voltage workspace.

Furthermore, fire retardant netting is available which gives extra protection, especially in dangerous workplaces, especially in construction and electrical works.

Affordable and fire-rated, these tarps add to the list of great products from The Tarps Wholesaler, helping protect homes, offices, and worksites across the country.

Their white fire retardant tarp is a great canopy cover for fire and water resistance in the outdoor environment. For more information on The Tarps Wholesaler’s full range of fire retardant tarps and other specialty tarps, visit our website.
