Ravenna, Emilia-Romagna Jan 16, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - The Mud Audio Voodoo is a musical project with its origin in 2015 on April, 2. This musical project was an invention out of crisis, specifically economic crisis. The creator of the project was inspired by the legendary David Bowie and his song 'I'm a DJ'. Through this music project, the creator had found ways to compose and produce music using various free and low-priced software, all bought from the e-commerce site on the internet. The initial progress was slow as he started creating loops and royalty-free. Since then the music producer has come so far and right now he is gifting his fans with a brand new track called 'Snow dreams'.

Influenced by his homeland creations like Bay of Angels, Mud Audio Voodoo created its first mixed track which was distributed by The Orchard Enterprises NY. Inc. in the digital world which made the creator famous in the music world. From there, it was no looking back for the music producer, and his recent release 'Snow dreams' is hitting all the right places according to his fans. The track has already become one of the most favorite tracks of his fans on the major music streaming platform SoundCloud. With the advancement of technology, the music scene changed a lot and with it, the process of creating music changed as well. Adapting well with this advancement the amazing music producer has gifted his fans hits after hits.

His single 'Away from This' ranked up to the 12th position on the European indie chart and stayed there for 80 weeks. In 2023, his album 'Psychedelic Love' created serious buzz but his single 'Old Man' is considered one of his biggest hit tracks. Beside the new track, the immensely talented music producer had released the track 'Buzz Light' in the middle of 2024 in June. Apart from these, the music producer has also created tracks like 'Stronger', 'Don't Let Me', and so on for his fans. Recently the artist was seen performing at DJ set in Riviera Romagnola.
