Larencielle Productions Announces the Release of Tarvona's Soul-Stirring Single Empty Words (Unveiled) on February 14, 2025

Produced by Visionary Australia Lawrence, This Emotionally Charged Song Explores Betrayal, Heartbreak, and Self-Discovery

Larencielle Productions, led by producer and creative visionary Australia Lawrence, proudly announces the release of "Empty Words (Unveiled)," the latest single from Tarvona. Set to debut on February 14, 2025, this hauntingly beautiful song captures the raw pain of deception, the ache of love lost, and the strength found in moving on.

A deeply introspective and lyrically rich ballad, Empty Words (Unveiled) tells the story of broken promises, unfaithful love, and the realization that words without action are meaningless. With a soul-stirring melody, evocative instrumentation, and Tarvona's heartfelt vocal delivery, this single is an anthem of heartbreak and empowerment.

"This song is about coming to terms with the truth—seeing through the lies and finally setting yourself free," says Australia Lawrence, founder of Larencielle Productions. "It's a moment of pain but also of empowerment, and we wanted to capture that emotional depth in every note."

A Prelude to Bruised and Beautiful

The release of Empty Words (Unveiled) serves as the first glimpse into Tarvona's upcoming album, Bruised and Beautiful, set for release on March 21, 2025. The album continues the journey of self-discovery and healing, blending world music influences, poetic storytelling, and immersive soundscapes to create a deeply moving listening experience.

Listen & Connect

"Empty Words (Unveiled)" will be available on Spotify, Apple Music, YouTube, and all major streaming platforms on February 14, 2025.
