

Pastor Lee Cook Announces Candidacy for Alderman in Humboldt, Tennessee

Pastor Lee Cook seeking to continue his legacy of public service by running for the office of Alderman Ward 3 in Northeast Humboldt, aiming to succeed Alderwoman Julie Jones Coleman and bring his wealth of experience and leadership to the community.

Jackson, Tennessee Mar 3, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Pastor Lee Cook of Resurrection Church has officially announced his candidacy for the position of Alderman in Humboldt, Tennessee. With a heart for service and a vision for the future, Pastor Cook aims to bring positive change and a fresh perspective to the community he has faithfully served for over a decade.

As the Senior Pastor at Resurrection Church, Pastor Cook has been a steadfast leader, guiding his congregation with compassion and integrity. His commitment to community outreach and social justice has earned him the respect and admiration of residents throughout Humboldt. Pastor Cook's decision to run for Alderman stems from his deep desire to address local issues, support economic development, and foster a sense of unity among the citizens.

"I am honored to announce my candidacy for Alderman," said Pastor Cook. "My journey in ministry has been rooted in the principles of love, service, and justice. I am eager to bring those values to our city government and work collaboratively to create a brighter future for all of Humboldt."

Pastor Cook's campaign will focus on several key areas:

- Community Engagement: Strengthening the bonds between residents and local government through open communication and inclusive decision-making.
- Economic Development: Promoting small businesses, attracting new investments, and creating job opportunities for the community.
- Youth Empowerment: Providing resources and support for the next generation, ensuring they have access to education, recreation, and mentorship programs.
- Public Safety: Enhancing public safety measures and ensuring all residents feel secure in their neighborhoods.
- Sustainable Growth: Encouraging responsible development that preserves the character and charm of Humboldt while embracing progress.

Pastor Cook invites the community to join him in his campaign and share their ideas and concerns. "Together, we can make Humboldt a place where everyone has the opportunity to thrive," he said. "I look forward to listening to and learning from my fellow citizens as we embark on this journey together."

Throughout his remarkable career, Pastor Lee Cook has dedicated 43 years to pastoral leadership, guiding congregations with wisdom and compassion. His extensive experience includes managing big box stores and excelling in sales at WKBL Radio. Over his years in radio, Pastor Cook became a recognized on-air personality and promotions specialist. Cook has made significant contributions in education as both an elementary teacher and high school history teacher, nurturing young minds with his passion for knowledge.

In addition to his educational and pastoral roles, Pastor Cook has served as a chaplain, providing spiritual support to those in need. His commitment to community service is evident in his leadership positions, including positions he has held as chairman of the Parks Department and after-school programs, and currently is the vice president of the Lions Club. Cook holds a Bachelor of Biblical Studies and has been ordained as a bishop, further underscoring his dedication to faith and service.

Now, Lee Cook is seeking to continue his legacy of public service by running for the office of Alderman Ward 3 in Northeast Humboldt. He aims to succeed Alderwoman Julie Jones Coleman and bring his wealth of experience, leadership, and dedication to the community.
