

Volcora Announces Distribution Partnership with DCCSupply

Long Island, New York Mar 12, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Volcora, a leading provider of Point-of-Sale (POS) peripherals and cash management solutions, is excited to announce a strategic distribution partnership with DCCSupply, a premier supplier of POS processing equipment and accessories. This collaboration is set to significantly enhance the availability of Volcora's cutting-edge products through DCCSupply's extensive distribution network, providing businesses with advanced POS terminals, receipt printers, cash drawers, barcode scanners, and other essential peripherals.

This strategic alliance enables DCCSupply to offer Volcora's comprehensive POS solutions to a broad spectrum of industries, including retail, hospitality, and financial services. Businesses can now access expanded options for high-performance hardware designed to optimize transaction speed, operational efficiency, and customer experience. The partnership ensures seamless integration of Windows and Android-based POS terminals with Volcora's robust lineup of peripherals, delivering reliable and efficient solutions at competitive prices.

"Our partnership with DCCSupply marks a significant step in expanding the reach of our innovative POS solutions," said Lukas, Director of New Business Development at Volcora. "DCCSupply's reputation for quality service and expertise in payment technology aligns perfectly with our mission to provide businesses with reliable, high-performance POS solutions that enhance operational efficiency."

"Partnering with Volcora allows us to offer our customers a more comprehensive range of POS solutions designed to meet the evolving needs of modern businesses," said DCCSupply President Adam Kaplan. "We are excited to bring Volcora's hardware solutions to our extensive customer base, helping businesses optimize their operations and enhance the customer experience."
